

ARE YOU SLEEPING IN A CANCER ZONE?

by: Skillen, Gary

Gary Skillen is a geomancer, professional earth grid engineer, inventor, dowser, researcher and agricultural consultant. Most of his research has been devoted to ecological solutions in the field of agriculture and focuses on the interaction of animal nutrition and the health of the soils on which animal feed crops are grown. He has a diploma in Dairy Science from Macdonald College, the agriculture extension of McGill University, and has devoted most of his research to ecological solutions in the field of agriculture. Gary is vice-president of the Canadian Society of Dowsers and organizes and instructs the annual Dowsing School for the Society.

GEOPATHIC ZONES We sleep for about eight hours in the same spot, or sit at work for eight hours in the same spot, and if that is what is called a geopathically stressed zone, some problem will eventually arise because of that. In some areas of Europe it has long been public policy to prohibit the building of residences over water veins, fault zones or areas of geomagnetic disturbance because of the health hazards observed over many centuries in dwellings previously built on such sites.

THE HARTMANN GRID If you go to the agricultural college library and look up geomagnetism, you will see that the earth is gridded with electromagnetic earth currents from the earth called Telluric lines. These electromagnetic energy lines have a wave pattern and flow in a grid fashion. There are different kinds of electromagnetic earth currents. The first is the Hartmann Grid, named after Dr. Ernst Hartmann who discovered it. Its lines run north to south as well as east to west, forming a checkerboard pattern with a 12 foot square grid and lines about four inches wide. At full moon they may be wider. The distance between the lines may be different in your area, depending primarily on the rock beneath the earth where you are living which will cause some variance. This far north of the equator, the lines of the Hartmann grid are only 12 feet apart, which means they are not very far apart, and some will be found underneath your home. Closer to the equator, they are about 17 feet apart, and they are wider and much less intense. These lines are actually rays projecting straight up from the ground, and it doesn't matter whether you are on the first floor or the fortieth floor. I don't know how deep the lines go. Their depth would depend on how much crystal there is in the rock. In the Kingston area the rock contains a lot of crystal, and the phenomenon is far worse from Kingston going north-west along the Canadian shield.

THE CURRY NET The Curry Net, named after Dr. Manfred Curry, runs diagonal to the Hartmann Grid, running from north-west to south-east, south-west to north-east, and one grid lays on top of the other. The Curry lines are 25 to 50 feet apart, so the Curry is not under every home. The Hartmann always is, but the Curry is not. That Curry Line is called the cancer line.

WATER VEINS The other phenomenon we have is water veins. This is water actually travelling in the rock, and that is where a dowser would find the water. So where two water veins intersect or where water intersects with the Curry is a very very dangerous place to be sleeping. When you have all the grids together, with the Curry line on top of the Hartmann, and the water veins as well, you could experience serious diseases at the crossings. What I see over the Hartmann crossings generally is less serious diseases such as arthritis.

MULTI-GROUNDING SYSTEM Every electrical installation is grounded; every building, every transformer, roughly every third hydro pole along the road is grounded. Since everything is grounded, it causes a certain amount of electricity to go into the soil. Power companies do not sell all the electricity they manufacture because some of it goes off into the air. Most researchers measure what goes into the atmosphere and how it affects human health, but my research shows that what goes into the air is not the most serious problem. It is actually what is coming up out of the earth from the earth rays, these magnetic grid lines which it is travelling along.

STRAY VOLTAGE IN THE GROUND I was at a meeting last September here in Toronto put on by the Canadian Electrical Association and they were discussing the effect of stray voltage on dairy cows. They were saying that electrical energy goes down the ground wires and back to the source where it was made, which is the substation or the power station. I asked them how it goes there, and they said that they really didn't know. Well, I think they know that it is travelling along the earth's magnetic grid lines. If there is a problem with an electric motor, or an electrical short or fault which is sending a lot of electrical energy down the ground wire, it will be travelling back to the source and it may be travelling underneath your home.

STRAY VOLTAGE AND COWS About three years ago, a farmer called me in because of stray voltage. Stray voltage occurs on a dairy farm where there is a lot of heavy equipment or electric motors with electrical faults which cause them to send a lot of electrical energy down the ground wires. Ontario Hydro had been in and had measured two volts of electricity coming right out of the soil. They just stick two rods in the ground maybe 50 feet apart with wires across with a volt meter to measure the voltage. Six of his cows had already died, so it was quite serious. When I dowsed for the Hartmann Grid lines, I found that it was the cows who were standing on these grid lines who were being affected by the stray voltage. The electricity that was travelling in the soil was travelling on the Hartmann Grid, and the cows who were standing on the Hartmann lines were the ones whose immune systems were depressed.

The dairy cow is tied in the same stall for 24 hours a day, so any adverse effects will be more predominant. These animals have taught me more than people because there is absolutely no placebo effect, which means that they don't know that I have made any changes in the earth's energies of their environment. But they change their behaviour from being an irritable, kicking animal to one that is calm, and that is a considerable change. Cows are tied up in two rows in barns, generally down the barn, and where the grid lines cross, I would ask the farmer, "Does that cow have a problem?" and he would say yes. Another 12 feet down I would ask, "Does that cow have a problem?" and he would answer yes, and he was quite surprised. Since cow stalls are four feet wide, the grid lines were under every third stall, all the way down the barn. I was able to identify the cows that had mastitis and different diseases, and who would not respond to medication. So we made the corrections, and things improved on that farm.

EFFECTS OF THE GRID LINES ON PLANTS, ANIMALS AND CHILDREN Birds use these magnetic lines to travel north and south to find their way back to the same nest. Cats interestingly will sleep on these zones, but dogs hate them. So if you have a cat sleeping on your bed all the time, be careful. There may be a geopathically stressed zone there. They are excellent dowzers. We also know that plants are affected by these energies. Trees will often grow with a twisted grain, or they grow off to one angle, or have burls on them. That tree is growing over a stressed area. So if you watch the trees, you will know where the geopathically stressed zones are. Children, even little children and babies will creep off these lines. They may even sleep on the carpet beside the bed, because it is just uncomfortable for them. Children who are sleeping on the Curry in particular, will have nightmares.

DISEASES LINKED TO GEOPATHIC STRESS Have any of you ever moved into a new apartment or new house and have never felt well since? You may have low energy, or not sleep properly. Electromagnetic fields interfere with the movement of oxygen at a cellular level, and the movement of water; therefore arthritis may result. I have seen arthritis, coughing, asthma, headaches, and diseases of different locations of the body depending on where the Hartmann grid is crossing you while you are asleep. It can be the liver or the kidneys. It can be anything. I had a client who was sleeping on a Curry line for 33 years and she developed cancer. It took that long in her case for the cancer to manifest, but some people are sick within three months of moving into a new house. So there are no rules. It depends on the individual, perhaps their diet, their attitude to life, how strong the lines are, how much electricity is travelling on them, how wide they are, and their intensity. If you have a phenomenon like this interfering with vibrational medicine such as homeopathy or aromatherapy, whatever corrections the practitioner is trying to make will not be very successful because of where you are sleeping. The Curry Net will usually wake people up every morning around two or three o'clock because it changes flow direction at that time and goes in the opposite direction. That is not exactly a shock, but it wakes people up.

BALANCING THE ENERGY FIELDS Our ancient people knew of these earth energies and their powerful influence on people and they knew how to balance these energies. Some cultures built pyramids in different parts of the world. Our Native North Americans built medicine wheels. To build a medicine wheel, or energy wheel, you take large rocks, preferably pink granite, and place them over a water dome, then a large one over each water vein coming off the dome, and then small rocks in between so it looks like a wagon wheel lying there on the ground built of stone. That will balance earth energies and you will actually have fewer flies and other insects around.

INSECTS AND PLANTS Insects know the difference between a healthy plant and an unhealthy plant, and they are attracted to the unhealthy ones. They have antennae which measure frequencies. An unhealthy plant gives off a high frequency short wave length, and the insects' job in nature is to destroy the unhealthy plants and only let the healthy plants multiply. When our plants are unhealthy, the insects come in, and we in our wisdom, get out our favourite insecticide and kill them, when really, the plant should have been destroyed. Dr. Danskow in Minnesota has discovered that if the leaf sugar reading is over 12%, insects stay away because apparently that sugar will change to alcohol in their digestive system and kill them with alcohol toxicity and diarrhea. We all know that sugar turns into alcohol. So if you are having insect problems in your garden and your plants are obviously under stress, find out what is wrong. Bring in a dowser and you can find out. Plants have a consciousness, and you can actually communicate with the plant. Read the book The Secret Life of Plants by Christopher Bird.

DETECTION OF GEOPATHIC ZONES BY DOWSING We have tried

many instruments, some very expensive, but none have proved as consistently reliable, accurate and quick as a human dowser. All scientists measuring geopathic stress with instruments will take a dowser along to locate the radiation initially. Today, dowsing is accepted and practiced by more and more people including medical practitioners, and dowsing for water has been the most accepted way of dowsing for thousands of years. Dowsing for health enables medical practitioners to determine and locate illnesses and disease and select the most suitable form of treatment and remedy quickly. Dowsing can be used for checking food to see if it is free from toxins and for determining allergies to certain foods. Dowsing areas for geopathic stress can be learned in a matter of minutes using rods, a pendulum, or the muscle test even though some dowsers tell you it will take years to learn. Learn to dowse and figure out where these grid lines are.

TREATMENT FOR GEOPATHIC STRESS ZONES There are many different methods of dealing with these phenomena. My own works well, and so do many others. Some people use strategically placed copper wires and coils and wrap copper wire around the bed frame. I dowse to see where the coils should be placed. Correct the problem. Move the bed a foot and a half and you are off the line. Watch where the cat is sleeping, or the dog. We place jars of specifically programmed crystals in a triangle around the house or barn, usually buried in the ground, and this starts the grid lines swirling and mixing. The swirling action is evident in the kitchen sink. The water may go down counterclockwise at night and clockwise during the day time. Counter-clockwise is a healing energy (north pole energy) and clockwise is a stimulating energy (south pole energy). Magnetic mattress pads will even the effects of the lines out, but not necessarily block them. That doesn't make it good.

PROTECTIVE PRODUCTS I have developed a few products to protect you from electromagnetic fields. The Lady-Bug is a new concept using special materials and antennae to attract and redirect harmful computer screen emissions away from the user. It is a cute-looking bug, the size of a dime. The Elf-Pak contains a dielectric resonator which alters the harmful nature of radiations and creates an interference pattern. It is placed on the main electrical fuse box in the home or workplace to neutralize harmful electricity. It protects against radiations from microwave dishes, power substations and power transmission lines. Carry the Elf-Pak when flying to reduce jet lag caused by electronics and wiring under the floor of the airplane. The Earth Crystals will neutralize harmful geopathic stress zones and create a healing vortex around your home or workplace.

Are you sleeping in a cancer zone? It is a big concern for people today. Most of the research on this subject has been done in Europe. Some of the original research was done by von Pohl in Germany in the 1920s. Kathe Bachler discusses how where you are sleeping can cause cancer in her book called Earth Radiation, and there is an excellent book out of England by Rolf Gordon called Are You Sleeping in a Safe Place? All three people are saying virtually the same thing.
